THE Washington dispatch of the Cincinnati Commercial says that Mr. Brooks, of New York, in the course of Wednesday's debate in the House spoke an hour in drawing historica parallels between the negro and white race, and declared that this was the last time on which he expected to speak be-fore a white audience on the floor of the House, for in a few weeks the negroes would come down from the galleries and be representatives in Congress. The Republicans laughed derisively."

A Washington dispatch of the 18th, says that Secretary McCulloch has surprised everybody in Washington, by appointing Mr. Sloanaker, com-monly called "Wax Works," as Treas-ury Agent in Texas, at ten dollars a day and expenses. The Senate has rejected this adventurer three times. The present appointment does not require

The same dispatch also savs that "private advices from Chicago mention the factthat on the day the letter left, ten secret agents of the Treasury De-partment were luxuriating at the Tre-mont House, each one claiming to be a Democratic martyr, sacrificed in the

THE Philadelphia North American syor McMichael's paper) lays down what is to be the Republican policy in Congress, as follows:

Congress, as follows:

"I. The reconstruction question will not be reopened. The legislation aiready enseted on this subject will be adhered to and carried into effect. The reconstructed States will be restored to their ancient places, and the beautiful of the process of the control of the will be left without an opportunity of doing so. 2. The industry of the country will be relieved of mast of the severe burdens of taxtion.

3. The ruinous contraction policy will be arrested. 4. The extravagant cost of government will be cut down to a force of the severe burdens of the surface of th dard. 6. The increase of the navy by building new vessels will be stopped."

THE N. Y. Times, in speaking of the present winter season, says "the dullness of business, the scarcity of em-ployment, and the difficulty of making money, are giving lessons of economy in quarters where beretofore they have in quarters where heretofore they have never been learned, and are giving harder lessons still to many who have always been compelled to practice it. The severity of the present winter is felt with uncommon force and to an uncommon extent by thousands who are willing to work. Let those who have plenty, refrain from waste, and let them see, so far as it is in their power, that none suffer from want.

The New York Sun, in speaking of taxation, says that "A complicated system which places a tax upon everything that a man eats, drinks, wears, feels, aces, hears or thinks of, as our system does, cannot be equalized. It is a waste of time for Congress to puzzle and perplex its brains about the matter, for the thing is beyond the range of human logenuity. The whole system ought to be abolished, and in its place should be established the British system, or still better, the system of complete free trade."

THE OYSTER TRADE OF BALTIMORE. The Baltimore export oyster trade is one of its largest industrial interests. A yearly average of 3,800,000 bushels i taken there from the waters of the Chesapeake, where over 1,000 large boats are ongaged in procuring them for that market. Each of these boats averages a catch of 4,746 bushels during the oyster season, which is six months in dustion, and during that time makes an income of $2,100. The oyaters are packed in airtighttin caus and sent to all the principal cities in the West, even as far as Memphis, and after being repacked, can be sent to Santa Fa, or Denver, without losing their freshness. There are thirty packing houses and over ten thousand people Interested in this oyster business in Baltimore. Of the whole number of bushels of oysters brought to the city. 1.875,000 bushels are packed raw; 1.889,000 bushels are packed raw; 1.889,000 bushels are packed raw; 1.889,000 bushels are declarated for home consumption. During the husiest season, 45,000 bushels are opened daily at the various packing houses. St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati and Louisylile are the largest purchasers. ing repacked, can be sent to Santa Fe. As complete and worthy of attention as that

Whisky Ring in Washington

The Corruption Fund.

Special to the New York Post.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The special disputch sent to the Evening Post on Saturday, in relation to the operations of the whisky "Hing," produced no little excitement among the leaders of the "Blan", here where the comp Known. the "Ring" bere, when it became known yesterday morning, and your correspondent was denounced bitterly lot exposing their plans. Efforts were made to ascertain whence the information was derived, but it proyed fruitless,

The whisky men denied the accurawas derived, our prover dates. The whisky men denied the accuracy of the statement that their fund for our upion purposes was two hundred thousand dollars, by asserting that it was three times that amount.

It appears a "Ring Tax" has been levied on all the whisky dealers throughout the country who approve the method by which the "Ring" here expects to control Congress. This tax varies from two hundred and fifty dollars up to five thousand dollars, and it has produced a fund of nearly half a million of dollars, which is to be used here this winter in advancing their sobelmes.

"We will expend two million dollars to push our plan through Congress," remarked one of the leaders yeaterday. This shows the extent to which they expect to go in pushing forward their swindling schemes, and the transaction bid afair to become one of the boldest ds fair to become one of the boldest ovements even instigated by corrup-movements ever instigated by corrup-tionists.

A part of the "Ring" left here last night for the purpose of obtaining rain-forements, and endeavoring to silence certain leading journals throughout the country which have heretofore strenu-ously opposed them,

From the N. Y. Post.

The letter signed "D." in the Charles ton Courier, which we noticed severa days since, turns out, as we then intinated, neither to have been written by General Dent, nor to contain an auther tic report of General Grant's political preferences. When the time shall come for him to speak, there is no cause come for him to speak, there is no cause for apprehension that General Grant will be silent; but at the present moment, when great divisions of sentiment-exist in the ranks of all political organizations in relation to finance and reconstruction, as well as to other matters which Congress is now engaged in determining, is not the time for such a declaration. It is well for our people, once for all, to understand that the communications of newspapercorrespondents in relation to General Grant's views are wholly unauthorized, and are generally either inferences drawn from garbed extracts from private conversations, or else more probably inventions.

Ir axpears that by the law of 1856 there were to be but "two mileages each Congress," one each year. By the law of 1866, reducing the mileage to 20 cents, it was provided that this should be "paid at the commencement of each regular session." By the law of 1867 it was provided that there should be one tore session each commending March more session each commencing March, but no old member of the preceding Congress to have milesge for this additional session. The only point-referred to the Judiciary is, whether the new members of the Fortisth Congress are to have three milesges for the three regular sessions of that Congress, not for the three fractions of that first. session.

day, says: "Fifty-two women, called. out of courtesy, 'beer-jerkers', were ar-rested last night and committed to the calaboose. Fifty-two women, dressed in Babylonish mafinificence, huddled in Baylonish mannincence, huddled together likeso many animals, making night hideous with their vulgar jests and obscene sougs, presented alto-gether a scene which not every creature of this mundane ball is privileged to witness.

Tribute of Respect.

At a regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the National Bank of West Virginia, held at their banking house, December 19th, 1877, the following resolutions were adopted:
